19th, Aug. 19, John Dixon and John Quall were buried from the house of John Taylor in G. S. L. City. A large concourse of people followed them to the graveyard. John Taylor preached the funeral sermon.

Gov. Brigham Young issued the following proclamation:

From the Deseret News—Salt Lake City, Aug. 20th.

PROCLAMATION BY THE GOVERNOR.

Whereas, the Utah Indians of this Territory have been for some time, and still are in a state of open and declaratory war with the white settlers, committing injury upon them at every opportunity, killing them, driving off their stock, and burning their mills, and dwellings; and

Whereas, Numerous responsible authorities are lodged in the office of the United States District Court for Utah Territory, acting forthwith, and in defiance of all law, justice, and humanity, have trafficked, and do still traffic with the said hostile Indians, selling them powder, lead, and guns, and threaten to continue to do so; and

Whereas, Such conduct tends directly to augment hostilities which are already exceedingly serious. Therefore, to promote the public safety, and preserve the property and lives of the people from hostile Indians;

I, Brigham Young, Governor, and Executive Superintendent of Indian Affairs of the said Territory of Utah, do hereby order and direct, as follows, to wit:

1st. All the forces be in readiness to march to any point at a moment's notice; and when not in service, remain in their various localities, using all diligence to completely secure sufficient boys, and all the crops, and keeping strict guard upon stock, and all exposed property, and preventing the completion of their defenses with all possible speed.

2nd. Let every person be prepared to defend himself, and to aid others by personal service, or with supplies, whenever required.

3rd. Every person, whether resident, or non-resident, is hereby strictly forbidden to give, receive, or in any way voluntarily send, goods, arms, knives, or any weapon, or mission of war whatever, or to give, or in any manner render to any Utah Indian, any aid, shelter, food, or comfort, either directly or indirectly, unless by permission, or license from the Superintendent of Indian Affairs, the Indian Agent, or Sub-Agents.

and, every license to trade with the Indians in this territory, is hereby revoked, and every person to whom the opportunity offers, is required to notify the Governor, and non-residents, of this proclamation, so far as trading with, or aiding Indians is concerned, and forthwith report to the nearest civil or military officer, and if necessary, every case of departure from the most rigid compliance with this prohibition and revocation.

4th. As small and large wars of Indians are constantly growing about, watching for unguarded points, let all, who go into country, or on any retired places, be armed, and in sufficient numbers to be safe; and all are required to be constantly on the alert, and all officers must preserve order, and carry out the orders, and regulations, which have been, and may hereafter be given, since the commencement of Indian hostilities, and enforce the same when necessary.

5th. Heavy expenses have already been incurred by the inhabitants of this Territory, in defending themselves against hostile Indians, and much property has been lost and destroyed, and shall continue to be the case, until hostilities cease.

Therefore, Officers of every grade when on duty, are required to keep an accurate account of all services performed, and expenses incurred under their commands, or account of hostile Indians, or other evil disposed persons, whether residents or non-residents, and promptly forward the same to the office of the Governor, and Superintendent of Indian Affairs.

In testifying whereunto, I have hereunto set my hand, and caused the seal of said Territory to be affixed, at Great Salt Lake City, this nineteenth day of August, in the year of our Lord, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-three, and of the Independence of the United States of America the seventy-eighth.

By the Governor, I

BRIGHAM YOUNG.

William Richards, Secretary.
